The center works conscientiously to provide patients with a serene, supportive environment.

Mela Gaskins Butcher, director of the center, chose three large pieces of David Leaser's artwork to beautify the center. "I have three of David's beautiful pieces at my medical practice and my patients comment daily on their calming beauty," Gaskins said.

The installation of three botanical images, each approximately 4' x 4', provides a serene art gallery feeling to the center. Gaskins said Leaser's art fits corporate and home settings. "I can recommend Davis Leaser's art to anyone interested in enhancing their living or work space in an exceptional way.

"Think Georgia O'Keeffe meets Zen Garden and you have a feeling for David's magnificent eye and the results," Gaskins said.
